Jacinda Ardern's Quotes to Inspire You Towards Success

- One of the criticisms I've faced over the years is that I'm not aggressive enough or assertive enough, or maybe somehow, because I'm empathetic, it means I'm weak. I totally rebel against that. I refuse to believe that you cannot be both compassionate and strong.
- I want to be a good leader, not a good lady leader. I don't want to be known simply as the woman who gave birth.
- Back in the early days of my political career, I was called Socialist Cindy. I just hate the nickname Cindy.
- We aspire to be a government for all New Zealanders and one that will seize the opportunity to build a fairer, better New Zealand.
- If you sit and wait to feel like you are the most confident person in the room, you are probably going to be left by yourself.
